2025/2026 Issue No. 5

January 2026

Our Spiritual Journey

Recently during my time serving the Binghamton UU congregation as their ministerial intern I attended a workshop where a small group of us participated in an activity exploring our beliefs. This is an activity that I have done with youth before, but with much less theologically centered questions. One of the questions asked participants to create a continuum with their bodies showing where their belief lays between two options:

I believe that humans are inherently good.

I believe that humans are inherently bad.

I'm sure you can guess that this particular question was weighted heavily on the "humans are inherently good" side of the room. And you might think that this would be the case in any group of people but not all theologies believe what we, as Unitarian Universalists believe. That all humans are inherently worthy. It is, in fact, this belief in, what was then termed "universal salvation", that got the Unitarians and the Universalists labeled as heretics in the first place. Well, that and the denial of the Trinity.

And this belief in the inherent goodness and worth of every human being is a form of resistance. In a world where we are being told that the value of some human beings is less than others, where people are being dragged from their homes and imprisoned and separated from their families, where the disparity in wealth continues to grow, the belief that all people are worthy has become a radical notion.

So, if belief in the worth and dignity of every person is radical, let's be radical.

Greetings from the Director of Religious Exploration

Our theme for the month of January is “Practicing Resistance”. As parents of tiny humans, in a world that feels like it's on fire, how do we teach resistance let alone practice it? How do we continue to dismantle systems that oppress us when we are drained and exhausted? These are questions I've asked myself time and time again.

Rest is resistance. Society tricks us into thinking that if we aren't constantly going, then we are failing. This is not true! This idea is a part of hustle culture and it does not serve us or our families.

Practicing resistance can look like slowing down, especially in the winter months. Hibernate, take a nap, breathe. I am sure you're thinking “Madeline I have bills to pay and work to do, I can't just take a nap.” That may be true AND what if you skipped the dishes at the end of the night? The dishes won't go anywhere. The dishes are never in a rush. Your children won't judge you if they see the dirty pan in the sink. In fact, it will remind them of the delicious meal their parent made for them. They will notice their parents are snuggling with them on the couch a little bit longer. Maybe this frees up time for stories or movies to end the day.

You don't have to make some profound change in order to lean into resistance. Caring for yourself is enough and it is perfect.

With Love and Care, Madeline

January Classroom Sundays

This month the elementary aged children will explore our monthly theme “Practicing Resistance” through stories, activities, crafts, and games.

Middle School will continue to explore their Unitarian Universalist Values through the lens of other faith traditions using the “Crossing Paths” Curriculum.

Youth who are in High School are encouraged to join the weekly services or volunteer in RE. They are welcome to facilitate games and crafts for the elementary kids or play in the nursery with our babies and toddlers.

Elementary religious exploration is in a time of change. We are starting the new year by introducing “Choose your own Adventure” RE. All elementary kids will start RE in the arch room for Children’s Chapel. They will light their chalice, revisit covenant, embody the 7 values, and enjoy a story that aligns with the theme of the month. After this connection time they are invited to choose between 2 or 3 activities. Our goal is to deepen their connection with all of the kids in RE across many age groups and allow them to take ownership over their RE experience.

Please register your children below for the 2025-2026 Religious Exploration program! This information helps us to plan for the upcoming year AND keep your children safe.

Volunteer Involvement

We have so much appreciation for all of the community members who have volunteered to enrich our community through participating in our Religious Exploration programming. Volunteering for the RE program is a gift of welcome that we all have to give and I hope you will consider joining our amazing team of volunteers. This important programming can only happen with the support of the entire community.

As we begin to shift into the winter months, it is important to begin collecting new RE volunteers to join the kind and nurturing team of RE Teachers. Classrooms run twice a month for all of the 5 classrooms. We have substitutes available to cover any Sunday that you might not be available for and the schedule is already made, making it much easier for all of us to plan ahead! If you're new to Unitarian Universalism, volunteering is a great way to learn more about our values!

Possible Ponderings

The theme for January is Practicing Resistance.

Possible Ponderings is an offering of ways you might consider engaging more deeply with the theme or reflecting on the ways the idea of Practicing Resistance shows up in your life.

January 1-10: As a kid, did you resist the rules or did you follow them? How might you see an echo of that earlier self in your life today?

January 11-17: Is there a time from your past where you wish you would have found a way to resist the fear of failure?

January 18-24: Have you been following the path of least resistance for so long that you no longer notice?

January 25-31: Our self-focused culture is not designed to encourage activism and other-centered resistance. Who do you have to thank for your becoming someone who counter-culturally cares about and works for needs greater than your own?

Parking

The church does not have a parking lot, but there is free parking on the nearby city streets on Sundays and the Town of Ithaca allows us to use their lot on Sundays (on the corner of Aurora and Buffalo, directly across from the church). Please do not park in the lot next to the church on Aurora St.

Current Volunteer Opportunities

Volunteering is a great way to meet others in the First Unitarian Community and give back at the same time! Current Volunteer Opportunities can be found here: <https://unitarian.ithaca.ny.us/index.php/connection/volunteer/>

FUSIT Listserv

*Did you know you can text in your donations to the offering plate on Sundays? Simply text 607-260-6616
with the amount + offering
(eg: $5 offering) to donate by phone.

We discuss actions in which we can engage and listen to one another. Any and all are welcome, whether you attend once or often. Please bring your suggestions, ideas and thoughts. We continue to evolve with our ideas and actions.

As we nurture a culture of appreciation at FUSIT, let's sing praises to the many people who help make our community the wonderful place it is. It can be a member or staff or friend to our community. Send your submissions to joysandsorrows@uithaca.org.

From Nancy Dolge, Walt Peck and the Care Team:

With much gratitude we want to report that The Human Needs Fund fundraiser and shared plate in November yielded $1,252.81 to replenish the $4500 fund. Our mission is to create connection, find inspiration and engage the world.
Connect. Inspire. Engage.

Message from the Board of Trustees -

As part of our commitment to living our values and creating a Society where everyone feels loved and cared for, in 2023 the Board of Trustees started a Staff Wellbeing Initiative. Our staff are the foundation of everything we see, hear, and experience each week that brings us joy and fulfillment. Not only that, they are each individually special, with unique gifts, passions, and ideas that make our Society the amazing place it is. The Staff Wellbeing Initiative involves annual, individual interviews with staff focused on hearing their feedback and asking them what they need in order to not just stay in their jobs, but to feel fulfilled by their jobs and valued by their leadership and congregation. After those interviews, we look at all of responses and meet with the Ministry Visioning Team to identify ways that we can better support staff wellbeing individually, interpersonally, and organizationally. Wellbeing isn't just a personal charge — it's a community commitment that means being proactive, asking questions, listening, and being accountable to taking action. We want FUSIT to be a place that not only makes congregants feel seen, heard, and uplifted, but our staff as well. They are our backbone and our heart. If you see a staff member, tell them how much you appreciate them!
